About Chyrel:

Chyrel Lichaa is a dedicated advocate for individuals living with Homozygous Familial Hypercholesterolemia (HoFH). As a HoFH Patient Ambassador, she actively works to raise awareness about this rare genetic disorder, which causes extremely high levels of LDL cholesterol from birth. Her personal journey with HoFH has made her a passionate spokesperson, emphasizing the importance of early diagnosis, effective treatment, and emotional well-being for patients. Chyrel also plays a key role in organising the HoFH Awareness Day first launched on May the 4th in 2024.

Chyrel's story was featured in the World Heart Federation white paper about cholesterol, highlighting her contributions and the challenges faced by HoFH patients. Additionally, she was a speaker at the World Heart Federation Rare Disease Forum in Geneva in May 2023, where she shared her experiences and advocated for better care and awareness for those living with this rare condition.

Her firsthand experience with HoFH empowers her to judge the competition with profound insight and empathy.
