About Sara:

Sara Otter serves as the Artistic Ambassador for the FH Europe Foundation (FHEF) in the UK, leveraging her artistic talents to raise awareness about familial hypercholesterolemia (FH). Through her creative endeavors, Sara crafts compelling visual content aimed at educating the public about the challenges faced by individuals living with Homozygous Familial Hypercholesterolemia (HoFH).

By infusing her artwork with empathy and insight, Sara bridges the gap between scientific information and public awareness, making critical medical knowledge accessible and engaging to a wide audience.

Her artistic vision and unwavering dedication to advocacy ensure that she will discern the most impactful and creative designs. Sara's ability to evoke emotion and provoke thought through her art not only fosters greater understanding of HoFH but also inspires action and support for those affected by this rare genetic disorder.
